Introduction

I HAVE been a lover, collector and grower of the finer PEONIES for nearly twenty years. This collection consists of the highest rated choicest varieties, and has now become so large that I must dispose of some of the stock, so this catalogue is sent for your consideration.

If you favor me with your order, I am sure you will be pleased with your purchase.

“Stock is true to name”

2 for 1 if found otherwise

TERMS

2 per cent ten days, net thirty days. If cash is sent with an order of ten dollars ($10.00) or more, take ten per cent (10%) discount, or select extra 10% in roots. If order is to be billed, give bank reference.

Prices quoted are based on roots with two to four eyes, the ideal size for planting. If you prefer more eyes to the root, add 50% to price for three to five eye divisions.

Roots delivered after September 1.

Culture

The best time of all the year to plant Peony roots, is during the month of September and October. They will grow in almost any kind of soil, but like a deep rich loam the best. Prepare ground by deep digging, or plowing, working in some bone meal as a permanent food for the roots to feed upon. Plant the roots so that the eyes are not more than two inches under the level of the ground and do not plant where water will stand, as they should have a good drainage.

It takes about three years for a Peony to become established so that it will bear its finest flowers.

Planted two or three feet apart each way, the roots can remain undisturbed for a period of five to ten years or more, and each year will develop into a finer plant.

WHY "GLORIOUS PEONIES?"

If there is a "noble" flower, it is the Peony.

The Christmas Rose

(Helleborus Niger)

The hills are white in robes of snow
But lo, upon the Winter's breast
Amid the gleam of frost and ice,
The Christmas Rose uplifts its crest.
It seems the soul of Summer flowers
Grown brave to cheer the Winter hours.
(Edith Willis Lynn.)

A rare plant blooming during mild spells in December, January, and on into the Spring. It often sends the large milk-white flowers, which are of great substance, up through the snow at Christmas time. Planted in a border where some leaves can fall and protect them somewhat, it is a joy to see the lovely blossoms nestling in the snow in the middle of Winter. Can be planted either Fall or Spring.
